

Oak Class Reading Curriculum

Objective Breakdown and Curriculum Coverage (24/25)

Year 2

Term	Text	Objectives (NC)
Autumn 1	The Magic Finger by Roald Dahl	Pupils should be taught to: (Year 2) Develop pleasure in reading, motivation to read, vocabulary and understanding by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • listening to, discussing and expressing views about a wide range of contemporary and classic poetry, stories and non-fiction at a level beyond that at which they can read independently • discussing the sequence of events in books and how items of information are related • discussing and clarifying the meanings of words, linking new meanings to known vocabulary • discussing their favourite words and phrases Understand both the books that they can already read accurately and fluently and those that they listen to by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • drawing on what they already know or on background information and vocabulary provided by the teacher • checking that the text makes sense to them as they read and correcting inaccurate reading • making inferences on the basis of what is being said and done • answering and asking questions • predicting what might happen on the basis of what has been read so far Participate in discussion about books, poems and other works that are read to them and those that they can read for themselves, taking turns and listening to what others say Explain and discuss their understanding of books, poems and other material, both those that they listen to and those that they read for themselves.
Autumn 2	After the Fall by Dan Santat	Pupils should be taught to: (Year 2)Develop pleasure in reading, motivation to read, vocabulary and understanding by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • listening to, discussing and expressing views about a wide range of contemporary and classic poetry, stories and non-fiction at a level beyond that at which they can read independently • discussing the sequence of events in books and how items of information are related • discussing and clarifying the meanings of words, linking new meanings to known vocabulary

		Understand both the books that they can already read accurately and fluently and those that they listen to by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • drawing on what they already know or on background information and vocabulary provided by the teacher • checking that the text makes sense to them as they read and correcting inaccurate reading • making inferences on the basis of what is being said and done • answering and asking questions • predicting what might happen on the basis of what has been read so far Participate in discussion about books, poems and other works that are read to them and those that they can read for themselves, taking turns and listening to what others say
Spring 1	Cakes in Space by Philip Reeve	Pupils should be taught to: (Year 2) Develop pleasure in reading, motivation to read, vocabulary and understanding by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • listening to, discussing and expressing views about a wide range of contemporary and classic poetry, stories and non-fiction at a level beyond that at which they can read independently • discussing the sequence of events in books and how items of information are related • discussing and clarifying the meanings of words, linking new meanings to known vocabulary Understand both the books that they can already read accurately and fluently and those that they listen to by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • drawing on what they already know or on background information and vocabulary provided by the teacher • checking that the text makes sense to them as they read and correcting inaccurate reading • making inferences on the basis of what is being said and done • answering and asking questions • predicting what might happen on the basis of what has been read so far Participate in discussion about books, poems and other works that are read to them and those that they can read for themselves, taking turns and listening to what others say Explain and discuss their understanding of books, poems and other material, both those that they listen to and those that they read for themselves.

Spring 2	Too Small Tola by Atinuke	Pupils should be taught to: (Year 2)Develop pleasure in reading, motivation to read, vocabulary and understanding by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • listening to, discussing and expressing views about a wide range of contemporary and classic poetry, stories and non-fiction at a level beyond that at which they can read independently • discussing the sequence of events in books and how items of information are related • discussing and clarifying the meanings of words, linking new meanings to known vocabulary • discussing their favourite words and phrases Understand both the books that they can already read accurately and fluently and those that they listen to by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • drawing on what they already know or on background information and vocabulary provided by the teacher • checking that the text makes sense to them as they read and correcting inaccurate reading • making inferences on the basis of what is being said and done • answering and asking questions • predicting what might happen on the basis of what has been read so far Participate in discussion about books, poems and other works that are read to them and those that they can read for themselves, taking turns and listening to what others say Explain and discuss their understanding of books, poems and other material, both those that they listen to and those that they read for themselves.
Summer 1	The Street Beneath My Feet by Charlotte Guillian	Pupils should be taught to: (Year 2)Develop pleasure in reading, motivation to read, vocabulary and understanding by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • listening to, discussing and expressing views about a wide range of contemporary and classic poetry, stories and non-fiction at a level beyond that at which they can read independently • discussing the sequence of events in books and how items of information are related • being introduced to non-fiction books that are structured in different ways • discussing and clarifying the meanings of words, linking new meanings to known vocabulary Understand both the books that they can already read accurately and fluently and those that they listen to by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • drawing on what they already know or on background information and vocabulary provided by the teacher

		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • checking that the text makes sense to them as they read and correcting inaccurate reading • making inferences on the basis of what is being said and done • answering and asking questions • predicting what might happen on the basis of what has been read so far Participate in discussion about books, poems and other works that are read to them and those that they can read for themselves, taking turns and listening to what others say Explain and discuss their understanding of books, poems and other material, both those that they listen to and those that they read for themselves.
Summer 2	A Book of Bears by Katie Viggers	Pupils should be taught to: (Year 2) Develop pleasure in reading, motivation to read, vocabulary and understanding by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • listening to, discussing and expressing views about a wide range of contemporary and classic poetry, stories and non-fiction at a level beyond that at which they can read independently • discussing the sequence of events in books and how items of information are related • being introduced to non-fiction books that are structured in different ways • recognising simple recurring literary language in stories and poetry Understand both the books that they can already read accurately and fluently and those that they listen to by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • drawing on what they already know or on background information and vocabulary provided by the teacher • checking that the text makes sense to them as they read and correcting inaccurate reading • making inferences on the basis of what is being said and done • answering and asking questions • predicting what might happen on the basis of what has been read so far Participate in discussion about books, poems and other works that are read to them and those that they can read for themselves, taking turns and listening to what others say Explain and discuss their understanding of books, poems and other material, both those that they listen to and those that they read for themselves.

Year 3

Term	Text	Objectives (NC)
Autumn 1 and 2	A Necklace of Raindrops by Joan Aiken	Pupils should be taught to understand what they read by: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• listening to and discussing a wide range of fiction, poetry, plays, non-fiction and reference books or textbooks• reading books that are structured in different ways and reading for a range of purposes• increasing their familiarity with a wide range of books, including fairy stories, myths and legends, and retelling some of these orally• identifying themes and conventions in a wide range of books• discussing words and phrases that capture the reader's interest and imagination Understand what they read, in books they can read independently, by: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• checking that the text makes sense to them, discussing their understanding and explaining the meaning of words in context• asking questions to improve their understanding of a text• drawing inferences such as inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, and justifying inferences with evidence• predicting what might happen from details stated and implied• identifying main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph and summarising these• identifying how language, structure, and presentation contribute to meaning• participate in discussion about both books that are read to them and those they can read for themselves, taking turns and listening to what others say
Autumn 2	Arthur and the Golden Rope by Joe Todd-Stanton	Pupils should be taught to understand what they read by: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• listening to and discussing a wide range of fiction, poetry, plays, non-fiction and reference books or textbooks• increasing their familiarity with a wide range of books, including fairy stories, myths and legends, and retelling some of these orally• identifying themes and conventions in a wide range of books• discussing words and phrases that capture the reader's interest and imagination Understand what they read, in books they can read independently, by: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• checking that the text makes sense to them, discussing their understanding and explaining the meaning of words in context• drawing inferences such as inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, and justifying inferences with evidence• predicting what might happen from details stated and implied• identifying main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph and summarising these

		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • identifying how language, structure, and presentation contribute to meaning • participate in discussion about both books that are read to them and those they can read for themselves, taking turns and listening to what others say
Spring 1	Lost Species by Jess French	Pupils should be taught to understand what they read by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • listening to and discussing a wide range of fiction, poetry, plays, non-fiction and reference books or textbooks • reading books that are structured in different ways and reading for a range of purposes • using dictionaries to check the meaning of words that they have read • increasing their familiarity with a wide range of books, including fairy stories, myths and legends, and retelling some of these orally • identifying themes and conventions in a wide range of books Understand what they read, in books they can read independently, by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • checking that the text makes sense to them, discussing their understanding and explaining the meaning of words in context • asking questions to improve their understanding of a text • drawing inferences such as inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, and justifying inferences with evidence • identifying main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph and summarising these • identifying how language, structure, and presentation contribute to meaning • retrieve and record information from non-fiction • participate in discussion about both books that are read to them and those they can read for themselves, taking turns and listening to what others say
Spring 2	New and Collected Poems for children by Carol-Ann Duffy	Pupils should be taught to understand what they read by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • listening to and discussing a wide range of fiction, poetry, plays, non-fiction and reference books or textbooks • reading books that are structured in different ways and reading for a range of purposes • using dictionaries to check the meaning of words that they have read • identifying themes and conventions in a wide range of books • preparing poems and play scripts to read aloud and to perform, showing understanding through intonation, tone, volume and action • discussing words and phrases that capture the reader's interest and imagination • recognising some different forms of poetry [for example, free verse, narrative poetry] Understand what they read, in books they can read independently, by:

		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • checking that the text makes sense to them, discussing their understanding and explaining the meaning of words in context • asking questions to improve their understanding of a text • drawing inferences such as inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, and justifying inferences with evidence • identifying how language, structure, and presentation contribute to meaning • participate in discussion about both books that are read to them and those they can read for themselves, taking turns and listening to what others say
Summer 1	The BFG by Roald Dahl	Pupils should be taught to understand what they read by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • listening to and discussing a wide range of fiction, poetry, plays, non-fiction and reference books or textbooks • reading books that are structured in different ways and reading for a range of purposes • using dictionaries to check the meaning of words that they have read • increasing their familiarity with a wide range of books, including fairy stories, myths and legends, and retelling some of these orally • identifying themes and conventions in a wide range of books • preparing poems and play scripts to read aloud and to perform, showing understanding through intonation, tone, volume and action • discussing words and phrases that capture the reader's interest and imagination • recognising some different forms of poetry [for example, free verse, narrative poetry] Understand what they read, in books they can read independently, by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • checking that the text makes sense to them, discussing their understanding and explaining the meaning of words in context • asking questions to improve their understanding of a text • drawing inferences such as inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, and justifying inferences with evidence • predicting what might happen from details stated and implied • identifying main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph and summarising these • identifying how language, structure, and presentation contribute to meaning • retrieve and record information from non-fiction • participate in discussion about both books that are read to them and those they can read for themselves, taking turns and listening to what others say

Summer 2	The White Fox by Jackie Morris	Pupils should be taught to understand what they read by: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• listening to and discussing a wide range of fiction, poetry, plays, non-fiction and reference books or textbooks• identifying themes and conventions in a wide range of books• recognising some different forms of poetry [for example, free verse, narrative poetry] Understand what they read, in books they can read independently, by: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• checking that the text makes sense to them, discussing their understanding and explaining the meaning of words in context• drawing inferences such as inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, and justifying inferences with evidence• predicting what might happen from details stated and implied• identifying main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph and summarising these• identifying how language, structure, and presentation contribute to meaning• participate in discussion about both books that are read to them and those they can read for themselves, taking turns and listening to what others say
----------	--------------------------------	---

Year 4

Term	Text	Objectives (NC)
Autumn 1	The Fossil Hunter by Kate Winter	Pupils should be taught to understand what they read by: Developing positive attitudes to reading and understanding of what they read: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• listening to and discussing a wide range of fiction, poetry, plays, non-fiction and reference books or textbooks• reading books that are structured in different ways and reading for a range of purposes• discussing words and phrases that capture the reader's interest and imagination Understand what they read, in books they can read independently, by: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• checking that the text makes sense to them, discussing their understanding and explaining the meaning of words in context• asking questions to improve their understanding of a text• drawing inferences such as inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, and justifying inferences with evidence• predicting what might happen from details stated and implied• identifying main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph and summarising these• identifying how language, structure, and presentation contribute to meaning Retrieve and record information from non-fiction Participate in discussion about both books that are read to them and those they can read for themselves, taking turns and listening to what others say
Autumn 2	The Story of Flight by Jakob Whitfield	Pupils should be taught to understand what they read by: Developing positive attitudes to reading and understanding of what they read: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• listening to and discussing a wide range of fiction, poetry, plays, non-fiction and reference books or textbooks• reading books that are structured in different ways and reading for a range of purposes• using dictionaries to check the meaning of words that they have read• identifying themes and conventions in a wide range of books Understand what they read, in books they can read independently, by: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• checking that the text makes sense to them, discussing their understanding and explaining the meaning of words in context• drawing inferences such as inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, and justifying inferences with evidence

		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • predicting what might happen from details stated and implied • identifying main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph and summarising these • identifying how language, structure, and presentation contribute to meaning Retrieve and record information from non-fiction Participate in discussion about both books that are read to them and those they can read for themselves, taking turns and listening to what others say
Spring 1	Firework Maker's Daughter by Philp Pullman	Pupils should be taught to understand what they read by: Developing positive attitudes to reading and understanding of what they read: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • listening to and discussing a wide range of fiction, poetry, plays, non-fiction and reference books or textbooks • reading books that are structured in different ways and reading for a range of purposes • using dictionaries to check the meaning of words that they have read • increasing their familiarity with a wide range of books, including fairy stories, myths and legends, and retelling some of these orally • identifying themes and conventions in a wide range of books Understand what they read, in books they can read independently, by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • checking that the text makes sense to them, discussing their understanding and explaining the meaning of words in context • asking questions to improve their understanding of a text • drawing inferences such as inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, and justifying inferences with evidence • predicting what might happen from details stated and implied • identifying main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph and summarising these • identifying how language, structure, and presentation contribute to meaning Retrieve and record information from non-fiction Participate in discussion about both books that are read to them and those they can read for themselves, taking turns and listening to what others say

Spring 2	The Poet's Dog by Patricia MacLachlan	Pupils should be taught to understand what they read by: Developing positive attitudes to reading and understanding of what they read: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • listening to and discussing a wide range of fiction, poetry, plays, non-fiction and reference books or textbooks • identifying themes and conventions in a wide range of books • preparing poems and play scripts to read aloud and to perform, showing understanding through intonation, tone, volume and action • discussing words and phrases that capture the reader's interest and imagination Understand what they read, in books they can read independently, by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • checking that the text makes sense to them, discussing their understanding and explaining the meaning of words in context • drawing inferences such as inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, and justifying inferences with evidence • predicting what might happen from details stated and implied • identifying main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph and summarising these • identifying how language, structure, and presentation contribute to meaning Participate in discussion about both books that are read to them and those they can read for themselves, taking turns and listening to what others say
Summer 1	Tamarind and the Star of Ishta by Jasbinder Bilan	Pupils should be taught to understand what they read by: Developing positive attitudes to reading and understanding of what they read: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • listening to and discussing a wide range of fiction, poetry, plays, non-fiction and reference books or textbooks • reading books that are structured in different ways and reading for a range of purposes • using dictionaries to check the meaning of words that they have read • increasing their familiarity with a wide range of books, including fairy stories, myths and legends, and retelling some of these orally • identifying themes and conventions in a wide range of books • discussing words and phrases that capture the reader's interest and imagination Understand what they read, in books they can read independently, by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • checking that the text makes sense to them, discussing their understanding and explaining the meaning of words in context • asking questions to improve their understanding of a text • drawing inferences such as inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, and justifying inferences with evidence • predicting what might happen from details stated and implied • identifying main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph and summarising these

		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • identifying how language, structure, and presentation contribute to meaning Retrieve and record information from non-fiction Participate in discussion about both books that are read to them and those they can read for themselves, taking turns and listening to what others say
Summer 2	The Lion, the Witch and the Wardrobe by CS Lewis	Pupils should be taught to understand what they read by: Developing positive attitudes to reading and understanding of what they read: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • listening to and discussing a wide range of fiction, poetry, plays, non-fiction and reference books or textbooks • reading books that are structured in different ways and reading for a range of purposes • using dictionaries to check the meaning of words that they have read • increasing their familiarity with a wide range of books, including fairy stories, myths and legends, and retelling some of these orally • identifying themes and conventions in a wide range of books • preparing poems and play scripts to read aloud and to perform, showing understanding through intonation, tone, volume and action • discussing words and phrases that capture the reader's interest and imagination • recognising some different forms of poetry [for example, free verse, narrative poetry] Understand what they read, in books they can read independently, by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • checking that the text makes sense to them, discussing their understanding and explaining the meaning of words in context • asking questions to improve their understanding of a text • drawing inferences such as inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, and justifying inferences with evidence • predicting what might happen from details stated and implied • identifying main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph and summarising these • identifying how language, structure, and presentation contribute to meaning Retrieve and record information from non-fiction Participate in discussion about both books that are read to them and those they can read for themselves, taking turns and listening to what others say

Year 5

Term	Text	Objectives (NC)
Autumn 1 and 2	Bright Stars of Black British History	Pupils should be taught to: Maintain positive attitudes to reading and understanding of what they read by: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• continuing to read and discuss an increasingly wide range of fiction, poetry, plays, non-fiction and reference books or textbooks• reading books that are structured in different ways and reading for a range of purposes• increasing their familiarity with a wide range of books, including myths, legends and traditional stories, modern fiction, fiction from our literary heritage, and books from other cultures and traditions• making comparisons within and across books Understand what they read by: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• checking that the book makes sense to them, discussing their understanding and exploring the meaning of words in context• asking questions to improve their understanding• drawing inferences such as inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, and justifying inferences with evidence• predicting what might happen from details stated and implied• summarising the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, identifying key details that support the main ideas• identifying how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning Discuss and evaluate how authors use language, including figurative language, considering the impact on the reader Distinguish between statements of fact and opinion Retrieve, record and present information from non-fiction Participate in discussions about books that are read to them and those they can read for themselves, building on their own and others' ideas and challenging views courteously Explain and discuss their understanding of what they have read, including through formal presentations and debates, maintaining a focus on the topic and using notes where necessary Provide reasoned justifications for their views

Spring 1 and 2	Who Let the Gods Out by Maz Evans	Pupils should be taught to: Maintain positive attitudes to reading and understanding of what they read by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • continuing to read and discuss an increasingly wide range of fiction, poetry, plays, non-fiction and reference books or textbooks • reading books that are structured in different ways and reading for a range of purposes • increasing their familiarity with a wide range of books, including myths, legends and traditional stories, modern fiction, fiction from our literary heritage, and books from other cultures and traditions • recommending books that they have read to their peers, giving reasons for their choices • making comparisons within and across books Understand what they read by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • checking that the book makes sense to them, discussing their understanding and exploring the meaning of words in context • asking questions to improve their understanding • drawing inferences such as inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, and justifying inferences with evidence • predicting what might happen from details stated and implied • summarising the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, identifying key details that support the main ideas • identifying how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning Discuss and evaluate how authors use language, including figurative language, considering the impact on the reader Retrieve, record and present information from non-fiction Participate in discussions about books that are read to them and those they can read for themselves, building on their own and others' ideas and challenging views courteously Provide reasoned justifications for their views
---------------------------	--	--

Summer 1	Cosmic by Frank Cottrell- Boyce	Pupils should be taught to: Maintain positive attitudes to reading and understanding of what they read by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • continuing to read and discuss an increasingly wide range of fiction, poetry, plays, non-fiction and reference books or textbooks • increasing their familiarity with a wide range of books, including myths, legends and traditional stories, modern fiction, fiction from our literary heritage, and books from other cultures and traditions • identifying and discussing themes and conventions in and across a wide range of writing • making comparisons within and across books • learning a wider range of poetry by heart Understand what they read by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • checking that the book makes sense to them, discussing their understanding and exploring the meaning of words in context • asking questions to improve their understanding • drawing inferences such as inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, and justifying inferences with evidence • predicting what might happen from details stated and implied • summarising the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, identifying key details that support the main ideas • identifying how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning Discuss and evaluate how authors use language, including figurative language, considering the impact on the reader Distinguish between statements of fact and opinion Participate in discussions about books that are read to them and those they can read for themselves, building on their own and others' ideas and challenging views courteously Explain and discuss their understanding of what they have read Provide reasoned justifications for their views
Summer 2	When the Stars Came Out	Pupils should be taught to: Maintain positive attitudes to reading and understanding of what they read by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • continuing to read and discuss an increasingly wide range of fiction, poetry, plays, non-fiction and reference books or textbooks • reading books that are structured in different ways and reading for a range of purposes • making comparisons within and across books Understand what they read by:

- | | | |
|--|--|---|
| | | <ul style="list-style-type: none">• checking that the book makes sense to them, discussing their understanding and exploring the meaning of words in context• asking questions to improve their understanding• drawing inferences such as inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, and justifying inferences with evidence• predicting what might happen from details stated and implied• summarising the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, identifying key details that support the main ideas• identifying how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning |
|--|--|---|

Discuss and evaluate how authors use language, including figurative language, considering the impact on the reader

Retrieve, record and present information from non-fiction

Participate in discussions about books that are read to them and those they can read for themselves, building on their own and others' ideas and challenging views courteously

Provide reasoned justifications for their views

Year 6

Term	Text	Objectives (NC)
Autumn 1 and 2	Malala- My Story of Standing Up the Rights of Girls	Pupils should be taught to maintain positive attitudes to reading and understanding of what they read by: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• continuing to read and discuss an increasingly wide range of fiction, poetry, plays, non-fiction and reference books or textbooks• reading books that are structured in different ways and reading for a range of purposes• increasing their familiarity with a wide range of books, including myths, legends and traditional stories, modern fiction, fiction from our literary heritage, and books from other cultures and traditions• recommending books that they have read to their peers, giving reasons for their choices• identifying and discussing themes and conventions in and across a wide range of writing• making comparisons within and across books Understand what they read by: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• checking that the book makes sense to them, discussing their understanding and exploring the meaning of words in context• drawing inferences such as inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, and justifying inferences with evidence• predicting what might happen from details stated and implied• summarising the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, identifying key details that support the main ideas• identifying how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning Discuss and evaluate how authors use language, including figurative language, considering the impact on the reader Participate in discussions about books that are read to them and those they can read for themselves, building on their own and others' ideas and challenging views courteously Explain and discuss their understanding of what they have read, including through formal presentations and debates, maintaining a focus on the topic and using notes where necessary Provide reasoned justifications for their views

Spring 1 and 2	Incredible Journeys by Levison Wood	Pupils should be taught to maintain positive attitudes to reading and understanding of what they read by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • continuing to read and discuss an increasingly wide range of fiction, poetry, plays, non-fiction and reference books or textbooks • reading books that are structured in different ways and reading for a range of purposes • identifying and discussing themes and conventions in and across a wide range of writing • making comparisons within and across books Understand what they read by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • checking that the book makes sense to them, discussing their understanding and exploring the meaning of words in context • drawing inferences such as inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, and justifying inferences with evidence • predicting what might happen from details stated and implied • summarising the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, identifying key details that support the main ideas • identifying how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning Participate in discussions about books that are read to them and those they can read for themselves, building on their own and others' ideas and challenging views courteously Explain and discuss their understanding of what they have read, including through formal presentations and debates, maintaining a focus on the topic and using notes where necessary Provide reasoned justifications for their views
Summer 1	The Tiger Rising	Pupils should be taught to maintain positive attitudes to reading and understanding of what they read by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • continuing to read and discuss an increasingly wide range of fiction, poetry, plays, non-fiction and reference books or textbooks • reading books that are structured in different ways and reading for a range of purposes • identifying and discussing themes and conventions in and across a wide range of writing • making comparisons within and across books Understand what they read by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • checking that the book makes sense to them, discussing their understanding and exploring the meaning of words in context • asking questions to improve their understanding • drawing inferences such as inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, and justifying inferences with evidence

		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • predicting what might happen from details stated and implied • summarising the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, identifying key details that support the main ideas • identifying how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning Discuss and evaluate how authors use language, including figurative language, considering the impact on the reader Participate in discussions about books that are read to them and those they can read for themselves, building on their own and others' ideas and challenging views courteously Provide reasoned justifications for their views
Summer 2	Politics for beginners by Alex Frith and Louie Stowell	Pupils should be taught to maintain positive attitudes to reading and understanding of what they read by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • continuing to read and discuss an increasingly wide range of fiction, poetry, plays, non-fiction and reference books or textbooks • reading books that are structured in different ways and reading for a range of purposes • making comparisons within and across books Understand what they read by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • checking that the book makes sense to them, discussing their understanding and exploring the meaning of words in context • asking questions to improve their understanding • drawing inferences such as inferring characters' feelings, thoughts and motives from their actions, and justifying inferences with evidence • predicting what might happen from details stated and implied • summarising the main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph, identifying key details that support the main ideas • identifying how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning Distinguish between statements of fact and opinion Retrieve, record and present information from non-fiction Participate in discussions about books that are read to them and those they can read for themselves, building on their own and others' ideas and challenging views courteously Explain and discuss their understanding of what they have read, including through formal presentations and debates, maintaining a focus on the topic and using notes where necessary Provide reasoned justifications for their views